Free computers to deserving causes

Posted on Nov 27, Posted by Paul Category Specials

Someone was very kind to me recently so I thought I would "pay it forward" and give some used computers to deserving families or causes. We used to give computers we traded in to charities and community benefit organisations but they no longer accept donated computers because of the legal implications of recent law changes. Its not as easy as you would think to give computers away now. Please contact me if you know of a deserving cause or family.

All this "Pay It Forward" stuff is very addictive and makes me feel good - you should try it :-)
